Predictions from multilevel model controlling for country non–independence, measurement error, and religiosity